Meet Pooja!

An Udayan Ghar Alumnus

Pooja was abandoned by her parents at a young age, coming to Udayan Care at the tender age of 10. The experience gave Pooja a tremendous capacity for empathy and a powerful determination to help others. As a result, she almost immediately emerged as a leader among her new Udayan Care sisters, acting as a guiding "didi" for many of them.

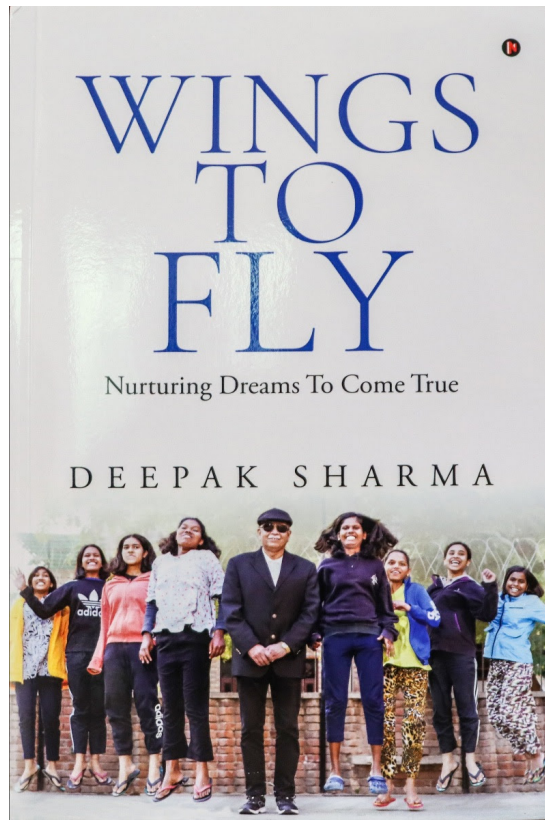

This proclivity only grew more pronounced as she grew older. Pooja's passion for helping others facing the same struggles she had known as a young child grew into a deep interest in the topic of alternative care. And as she excelled in school, she determined that she would continue this work professionally.

She was the first Udayan Care alumnus to be awarded the Chevening Scholarship, and she is now pursuing her dream of studying for a Masters in Development Studies at the prestigious University of London.

In characteristic fashion, Pooja is using her experience to help her fellow Udayans to pursue their own dreams. She has been mentoring other alumni and aiding them in applying for scholarships and study abroad programs, helping with everything from CVs to essays to recommendation letters. Pooja epitomizes Udayan Care's commitment to giving back, serving as a powerful example to us all of what is possible when we support one another.

Making a Difference

One of our most committed donors and volunteers, Deepak Sharma, is pursuing a "novel" way of giving back. In his forthcoming book, Wings to Fly: Nurturing Dreams to Come True, Mr. Sharma details his journey finding success in life and finding purpose through his work with Udayan Care. The book will be available for purchase on amazon.co.uk later this week and is available now on amazon.in. Two Indian newspapers have already published glowing reviews here and here. All proceeds will go to support Udayan Care, so purchase your own copy and you can help others gain their own wings to fly.

Udayan Care USA's Mission

Removed remaining email participants.

The oversight, though major, is not necessary to rectify because while to us reason of losing parents matters however to the recipients of the newsletter it does not.

...in my humble opinion.

Thank you

Hi Team,

Since June-2021 the website updates are pending (adding documents - tax filings, annual report, etc.). Whoever has committed (according to the last R&R matrix of July-2021) to this task can please add this below URL under Deepakji's profile summary under "Board Members".

Thanks and Regards,

Netoo

1.

Anitha had committed to website maintenance and updates in June-2021 during R&R finalization. I am glad to own it going forward however, we need to clarify and buy-in from the entire team first.

This is one such example affirming your observation (and mine) that we recently spoke about.

2.

We also need to fix the site PayPal button image, the link still works. Yesterday i got an email from WordPress godaddy that their plugin update may have caused it.

3.

I shall check with Jesse to see when she has time to have a call with us as she may have recovered from illness.

4.

I also look forward to meeting UC India CEO Anjali and yourself in the office in the near future.

Best Wishes...
Netoo

As you think best. The team will not meet for 2 months. How do we move forward?

Please give some alternative time when you can come in the 1st week of August.

Anjali you will be able to meet at Deepakji's book launch, in case you are coming. Please do if possible.

Thanks,

Kiran
